

1. You are not sure you have the right insurance coverage. As insurance specialists, insurance consultants know the right policy terms and conditions.

2. Your business is expanding and life is changing. Will your insurance meet your needs? Without the pull of vested interests, you know an insurance consultant will move you to the right decisions.

3. Your insurance is due to renew and you don't have time to deal with it. An insurance consultant can save you time and effort. You get right to the decision without blind alleys and false starts.

4. You get the feeling your current agent takes you for granted. An unbiased review from an insurance consultant assure you of the right insurance coverage.

5. Business is tough. You need to reduce your insurance costs. In most cases an insurance consultant's services pay for themselves in premium savings, time and effort. Also, who can afford an uncovered major loss?